Team Overview

Arianexa is built by a diverse and committed team of developers, marketers, and community experts:

Sbhan Amini – Founder

Sbhan Amini is the visionary shaping Arianexa's mission and long-term direction. With a deep belief in the power of decentralization, he founded Arianexa to bridge innovation with real-world impact. His leadership combines strategic foresight, innovation, and an unshakable commitment to building a project that redefines how people interact with blockchain technology.

Vinci – Co-Founder & Growth Strategist

Strategist, is a reputable figure with over three years of experience in the crypto and blockchain space. He leads our team of specialists with a clear mission — to build a system that creates equal opportunities and drives meaningful participation for everyone, regardless of their background.

As the driving force behind our marketing direction and ecosystem expansion, Vinci ensures that every step taken aligns with our long-term vision of inclusivity and sustainable growth.

>“The greatest creations often have their roots in the dark.” — Sir Vinci

Ethan Chain – Lead Marketing

Ethan Chain drives Arianexa's marketing strategy and global brand presence. With a strong background in digital growth and narrative building within the Web3 space, he ensures that Arianexa's voice reaches communities worldwide. Ethan's focus lies in strategic storytelling, ecosystem visibility, and user acquisition, making him a key force behind Arianexa's public image and expansion.

Shinobii X – Technical Operations Lead

Shinobii oversees the technical operations and infrastructure efficiency of Arianexa. His expertise spans blockchain systems, automation, and cross-chain integrations, ensuring the project runs with seamless precision. Dedicated to maintaining network reliability and security, Shinobii plays a vital role in keeping Arianexa's core technology stable, optimized, and future-ready.

Freyr – CFO Assistant

Freyr supports the project's financial coordination and resource management, ensuring transparency and accountability across every operational process. With a strong analytical mindset and attention to detail, she assists in maintaining balanced token economics, budget planning, and overall financial health, essential pillars for Arianexa's sustainable growth.

Enchantress – Social Media Manager (SMM)

Enchantress is the creative pulse behind Arianexa's social media presence and community engagement. She manages the project's digital platforms with strategy and authenticity, translating Arianexa's vision into relatable, compelling content. Her efforts help foster trust, excitement, and consistent communication between the brand and its global audience.

Nicky – Community Lead

Nicky serves as the bridge between Arianexa and its growing community. Passionate about people and connection, he ensures members stay informed, valued, and engaged. His approach is a merge of empathy with organization, building a community culture rooted in transparency, inclusivity, and shared vision.

Amazing – Collaborations Manager

Amazing leads Arianexa's partnerships and collaboration efforts, identifying and nurturing relationships that drive ecosystem growth. With an eye for synergy and long-term potential, he works closely with allied projects, influencers, and platforms to expand Arianexa's reach and strengthen its network presence.

Together, the team brings a balance of strategy, technology, and heart to build Arianexa into a tool for global empowerment.

Arianexa is not just an AI tool. It's a scalable movement.

By combining education, AI, and blockchain, Arianexa offers a unique kind of financial empowerment to the underserved, one that is accessible, intelligent, and community-driven.
